The Project Team will then analyze in greater detail the benefits, impacts and costs of those alternatives to identify a single preferred alternative.

The preferred alternative is expected to be identified in summer 2024. The draft environmental document, public hearing and formal comment period are expected in fall 2024. The final environmental document is expected in early 2026.

Governor Holcomb announced $200 million in funding for the project in 2021 to move construction forward. A timeline for construction will be determined at the end of the environmental study.

The Project Team is coordinating with local, state and federal officials throughout the project with public input playing an important role in project development.
